Good Roads—Section 1887 of Kentucky Statutes reads as follows:

"That should any Magisterial district or districts desire to unite in building a turnpike, it shall be mandatory on the part of the Fiscal Court to build the same; provided the citizens of said Magisterial district or districts shall have subscribed one-tenth of the cost of same as estimated by the engineer; and provided further, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the Fiscal Court from building a turnpike exclusive of said subscription if it desires to do so." Mr. James Crawford says he will give $100 if the county will build a pike toward Lincoln county line. With but little work a thousand dollars can be easily raised by private subscription and then the county must build the pike. THROAT REST

You can cough yourself into bronchitis, pneumonia, and consumption. Bandaging and bundling your throat will do no good. You must give your throat and lungs rest and allow the cough wounds to heal.

There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing. Stop it by using

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

Even the cough of early consumption is cured. And, later on, when the disease is firmly fixed, you can bring rest and comfort in every case.

A 25 cent bottle will cure new coughs and colds; the 50 cent size is better for settled coughs of bronchitis and weak lungs; the one-dollar size is more economical for chronic cases and consumption. It's the size you should keep on hand.

And it is good to have on the way for sudden attacks of cough or acute lung troubles. Every country home in the land should keep Cherry Pectoral constantly on hand to provide against contingencies.

FROM every Democratic tongue can be heard words of commendation and admiration for that most worthy campaign Chairman, Ex-Governor, and Senator elect to be, James B. McCreary. Why wait 'till this political knight has closed his earthly toils and passed through the Valley of the Shadow of Death to sing his praise?

Why not plant a flower in his path way while here among us that he might inhale the delicious fragrance thereof? He inspired the workers from Cumberland Gap to the Ohio with enthusiasm and determination. During his long career as a State and National representative he has been a hard worker; one who has not only the capacity but the inclination to work. His high and honorable career has not been an accident. It has its origin in a strong, noble nature; its source is found in his great head and great heart, constantly working together with pure methods for high purposes. Perhaps, 'tis true, that he has not the overwhelming logical power of Douglass; he has not acquired the rare and vast learning of Sumner; he has not the consuming eloquence of Clay, of Henry or Winter Davis; not the grand rhetorical sweep and range of Conkling; nor the unanswerable array of facts, figures and reasons of Jim Beck; but he has that exquisite union and harmony of every mental faculty and of all personal endowments that will make him in force and influence in the Federal Senate, their equal and their peer. The thoughts that emanate from his harmonious laboratory of brains are broad, liberal and exalted. He views everything as it is, in its naked reality and its true relations. With the serenity of a philosopher, he applies the test of truth to every proposition with almost mathematical precision. His speeches during his legislative career, are living embodiments of his thoughts, plain and clear, as if presented on a canvass. McKinley is re-elected with both branches of Congress Republican. As time rolls on, dangers that threaten this Republic will become more apparent. They will thicken as wealth and population increase; as trusts fatten and grow; as corporations multiply; and powers become more centralized. We shall need, yea, badly need, such an incorruptible and courageous man as McCreary in the "House of Lords" to fight the battles of popular prerogative against all these corroding influences subtle and fascinating as they are, which gradually lead the Republic to ape the splendors of imperialism and through its seeming glories to undermine its simple faiths and turn away its blessed aims.

SURELY Gov. Beckham is a very happy man. Nominated and elected as Lieutenant Governor last year; nominated and elected to the highest office in the gift of Kentuckians this year. Then he has won the heart and hand of one of the most beautiful and gifted women in the State. Last Saturday night he went to Owensesboro to see his intended, the beautiful Miss Jean Fuqua, and he was met not only by his bride to be, but also by 4,000 enthusiastic Democrats who gave him such an ovation as few public men receive. In the language of Ed. Walton, "This son of destiny seems to have been born with a diamond mounted gold spoon in his mouth."

HON. John W. Yerkes made the best race that could have been run on the platform which he had. No doubt Mr. Yerkes is the most popular Republican in Kentucky and he now deserves a seat in the Cabinet of Major McKinley which we sincerely hope will be tendered him. He is bright, congenial, able and dignified; an honor to Kentucky and Kentuckians. He has been a friend to Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle and we wish him the choicest things of earth.

HOWARD Gould's early sips of life's nectar which were so graphically described in a New York court last week in a suit between himself and valet, furnishes some delightful morsels for both male and female gossips. Admissions were wrung from the lips of the young millionaire, that he supported another woman, which brought blushes to the cheeks of his listening wife.

NOVEMBER'S election was an open sepulcher for the presidential hopes and aspirations of William Jennings Bryan. But the sun of the Sixth never set on a manlier spirit, or a truer son. Never was there a man who was endowed with stronger intellect or greater power of endurance.

HON. William J. Bryan has refused an offer of $10,000 a year to edit the Denver Post. In response he said that he would remain in Lincoln and defend with tongue and pen the principles he believed to be right and the policies which he believed to be wise.

The Standard Oil Company, the largest trust in the country, declared her fourth dividend last week for the past year. During this year the company has paid $46,800,000 in dividends which is a clearing of 48 per cent.

Look shy Nancy-Ann, Maria Jane, for there is givne to be a hot old time in Rockcastle before they get through prosecuting the users of the devil's eye water, free silver and Uncle Sam's greenback on election day.

The Lexington Morning Democrat, edited by W. P. Walton, is growing steadily in popularity and increasing daily in good news. Long may it and the Interior Journal live!

COL. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Hon. P. Wat Hardin and Jack Chinn, each received a vote for Governor. No doubt that either one of the three named gentlemen would make an excellent executive.

Gov. Mount, of Indiana, has been suggested for Secretary of Agriculture during McKinley's second term. Why not select William Sulay Taylor or Charles Rough-Rider Finley?

THERE is much talk over the incoming cabinet. The belief is that President McKinley will have a new Secretary of State, Treasurer, Navy, War and Postmaster General.

Yerkes is in Washington telling his troubles to the President.

BRYAN DECLARIES

That Policy of the Republican Party will yet be repudiated by the people.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—Mr. Bryan yesterday gave out a statement explaining his views on last Tuesday's election. The statement is as follows:

"The result is a surprise to me, and the magnitude of the victory is a surprise to our opponents as well as to those who voted our ticket. I will not analyze the votes until they are complete; but, speaking generally, we seem to have gained in the large cities and to have lost in the smaller cities of the country.

"The Republicans were able to secure tickets or passes for all of their voters who were away from home, and this gave them a considerable advantage. We have no way of telling at this time of how much money was spent in the purchase of votes and in colonization, but while these would account for some of the Republican gains, they could not account for the widespread increase in the Republican vote.

"The prosperity argument was probably the most potent one used by the Republicans. They compared present conditions with the panic times of 1893 to 1896, and this argument had weight with those who did not stop to consider reasons for the change. The appeal 'Stand by the President while war is on' had a great deal of influence among those who did not realize that a war against the doctrine of self-government in the Philippines must react upon us in this country. We have made an honest fight on an honest platform, and having done our duty as we say it, we have nothing to regret. We are defeated, but not discouraged. The fight must go on. I am sure that Republican policies will be repudiated by the public when the tyranny of their policy is fully understood. The contest between plutocracy and democracy cannot end until one or the other is completely triumphant."

In answer to inquiries concerning himself, he said: "I have come out of the campaign with perfect health and a clear conscience. I did my utmost to bring success to the principles for which I stood. Mr. Stevenson did all that he could. Senator Jones and the members of the Democracy-Populists, Silver Republican and Anti-Imperialist Committees did all they could.

"Mr. Hearst and his associates in the club organization put forth their best efforts, our newspapers, our campaign speakers and our local organizations did their part. "I have no fault to find and no reproaches. I shall continue to take an active interest in politics as long as I live. I believe it to be the duty of a citizen to do so, and in addition to my interest as a citizen, I feel that it will require a lifetime of work to repay the political friends who have done so much for me. I shall not be a Senatorial candidate before the Legislature which has just been elected. Senator Allen deserves the Senatorship which goes to the Populist, while Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. W. P. Thompson are avowed candidates for the Democratic Senatorship. They both deserve well of the party, and am too grateful to them for past support to stand in their way, even if I desired a seat in the Senate.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYDROPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SOZA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

It pay large dividends to the policy holders and is in every particular perfectly safe. Any one having money to invest would do well to talk with Miss Ellen, get her figures and know what splendid inducements this company offers.

T. N. Roberts, stopped off here Saturday on his return from Livingston to Danville, he will in all probability purchase the store room and stock of goods now owned by W. M. Fields. Mr. Roberts is a splendid business man and is known to most all of Rockcastle people as a perfect gentleman, most of them having had dealings with him, while he was with Mr. Otter, at this place several years ago. May be have unbounded success in his new field of labor, is the sincere wish of the SIGNAL.

Mr. J. N. Clouser, of Darlington, Indiana, spent the week, with his wife, who has been with Mrs. Evers here most all the summer and fall for her health. He left yesterday for Indiana, but will return in a few days and he and Mrs. Clouser will go on to North Carolina. They will, in all probability, make their future home somewhere in the South, and as the mountain atmosphere of Kentucky seems to help Mrs. Clouser, very much, we hope that they will make Mt. Vernon their stopping point.

To those who are behind as much as a year or more, do we especially speak. If you don't come to see us, we will be to see you. So don't be surprised.

FOR SALE.—This office has just printed a lot of circulars for James I. White, advertising his farm for sale in the northern part of town, on the Richmond road. We understand Mr. White is thinking of moving to Indiana, but we hope it is not true; for his loss would be a great loss to Rockcastle.

IN A VAULT.—Dr. G. H. Albright of Barbourville, as he was returning home from a visit to see a patient last Thursday night, Nov. 8, was met just in front of John A. Black's bank by a posse of men, who threw their pistols down on him and demanded him to throw up his hands, which he did, beyond any question. For some time he was held in that attitude and ordered not to look at any of them. After hearing one or two explosions in the bank he was ordered to walk inside, where he was locked inside the vault until 6 o'clock next morning, when Ed England, the book keeper went to open up. He was confined in the vault for nearly seven hours. The robbers were successful in getting only few cents which were in a drawer in the desk. The damage done the safe, was about $700. Bloodhounds were telegraphed for immediately, and neither time nor money will be spared in running down the rogues.

Mr. J. N. Clouser, of Darlington, Indiana, spent the week, with his wife, who has been with Mrs. Evers here most all the summer and fall for her health. He left yesterday for Indiana, but will return in a few days and he and Mrs. Clouser will go on to North Carolina. Vernon their stopping point.

BERRY HOWARD TALKS.

Berry Howard is reported as having said: "Well, I guess Beckhard is elected Governor, but he won't be Governor more than nine days." The statement is said to have been made in Pineville the day after the election. The information is said to have come from one of the most prominent men in the mountains, by letter, to a friend of the Governor's at Frankfort.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Theo Wesley Druggis Mt. Vernon Ky.
